PITCHING AND BATTING TO VICTORY-It takes three strikes to get a man out, so when Tommy Herbert, of Euclid, Ohio, had two called against him nine years ago, he still had a chance. He was a year old when he lost both hands in a train accident. Never one to quit, the plucky youngster continued active play. Now he is a top-notch ball player in the Euclid, Midget League. Tommy, a sixth-grader, throws right and bats left, holding the bat between the stumps of his two arms. He finished the season with a whopping .670 batting average, and doubled as left fielder and pitcher. At left, above, Tommy demonstrates his pitching form, and
